

CLASS OF '69

Under the leadership of President Bill Beckley, with the assistance of Lisa Korish, pen in hand; Rene Ward on the books; and Jay Maudlin as second fiddle, this year's Senior Class broke all records.

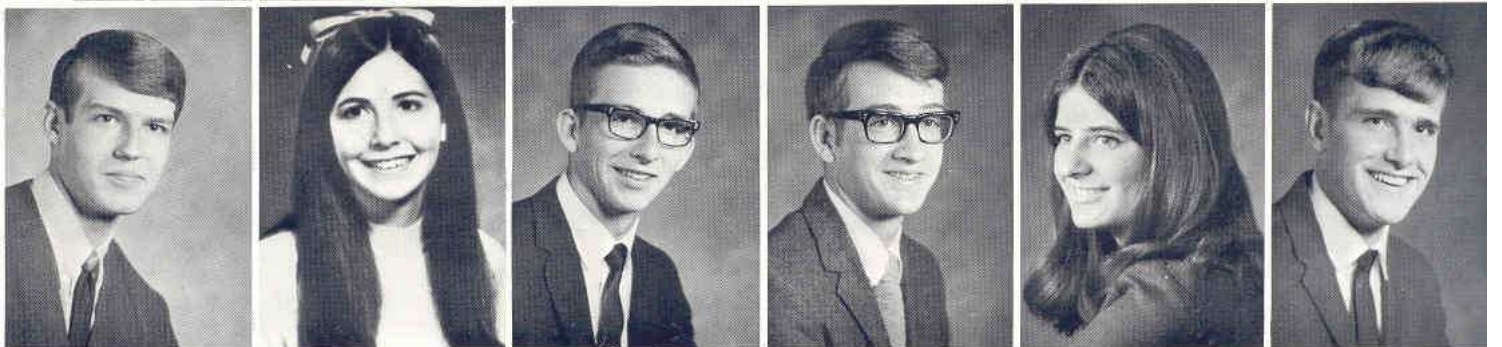

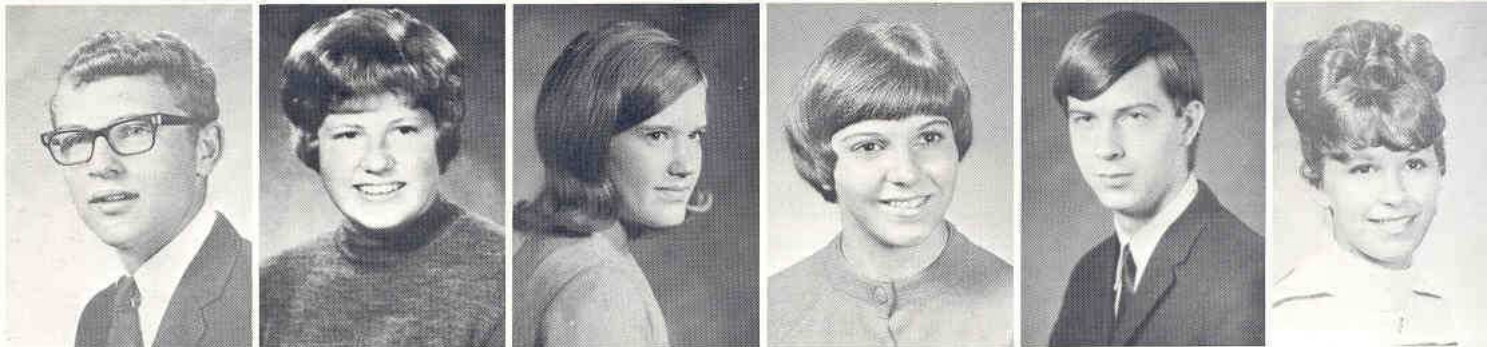

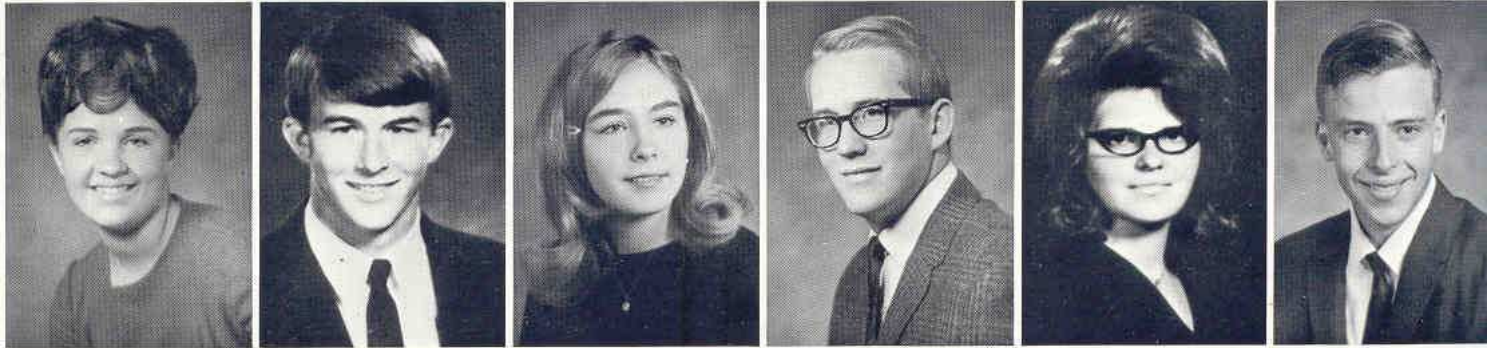

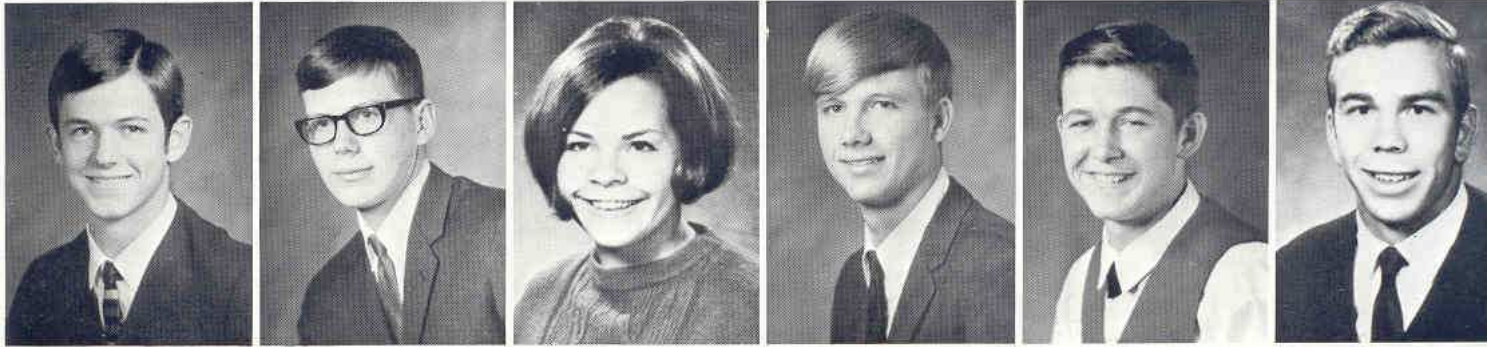

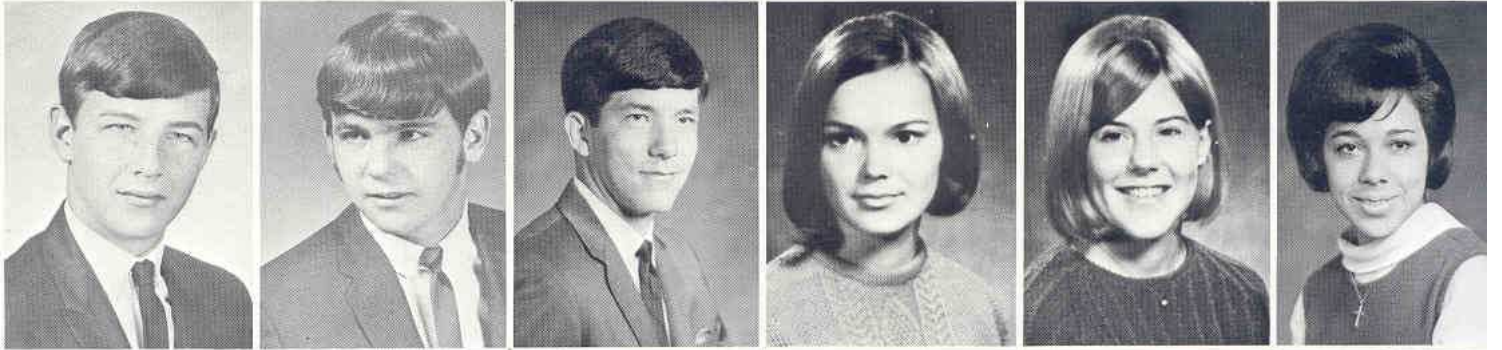

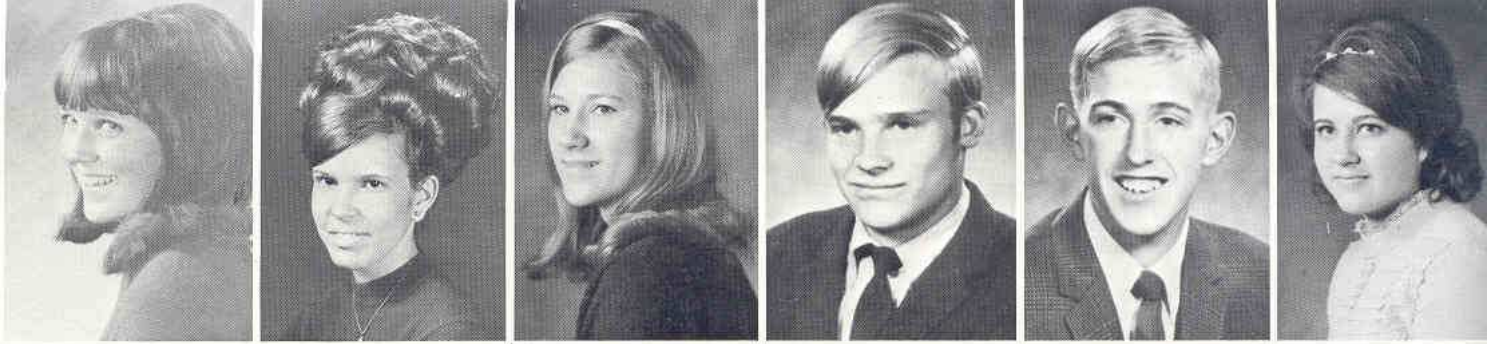

Embarking upon the final year of the challenge of education, we have presented new concepts in the attempt to better an already mediocre system. Keeping in mind the ideals on which the school was founded this year's Seniors strove to vitalize school spirit by incorporating revolutionary new ideas.

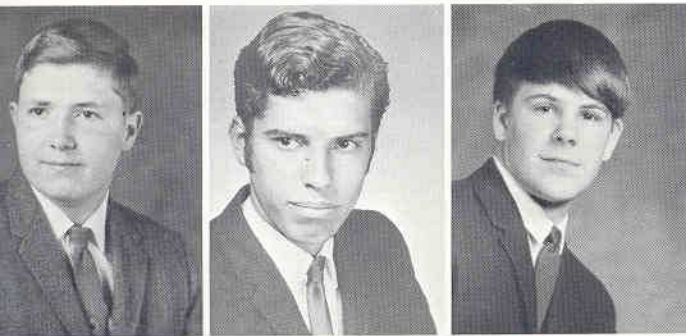

Two of the many firsts initiated by aspiring seniors included Basketball Homecoming and the Pancake Breakfast, in hopes that following generations will make these events annual affairs.

A class unity was established this year which has surpassed that of any other, strengthened through a greater cooperation among seniors. The formation of inter-class organizations and class sponsored outside activities helped to illustrate this unity.

Despite the loser image which has been bestowed upon us, we as a class, have learned to face defeat with a stiff upper lip, thus enabling us as individuals to meet life head on and leave our imprint in each venture we undertake.
